

SUMMER SCHOOL WHANGANUI

PRESENTED BY COMMUNITY EDUCATION + FRIENDS

In the vibrant heart of the arts precinct in Whanganui, take your opportunity to enjoy three 'all materials included' workshops this summer

CHILDRENS' BOOK ILLUSTRATION: FACILITATED BY NZ AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR, SANDRA MORRIS

Monday 18 January – Friday 22 January | 9:30am-4:30pm daily | $350

This 5-day workshop will steer you from rough draft to publisher proposal, guiding you through the processes of character development, drawing techniques, storyboarding and constructing a 'dummy' book. Learn the skills needed to create an expressive and engaging character in the genre of your choice. There is ample time within the course devoted to illustration techniques, as well as creating a 3D model. Complete the week by selecting one of your rough drafts and develop it into a publisher-ready sample spread. All materials are provided, with the added bonus of some guest experts in the book and design industries.

RELIEF/WOODCUT PRINTMAKING: FACILITATED BY AWARD-WINNING TEACHER AND ARTIST, MARTY VREEDE

Monday 25 January - Friday 29 January | 9:30am-4:30pm daily | $375

Learn about the process of woodcut – from drawing for woodcut to the first cut of the chisel, to multi-block layering and everything in between. This ancient and beautiful form of mark-making is both powerful and profoundly elegant in its simplicity. With the benefit of over forty years as a printmaker, Marty will advise and guide you as you explore your creative process.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SILKSCREEN PRINTING: FACILITATED BY TEACHER AND ARTIST, ESTHER TOPFER

Monday 25 January - Friday 29 January | 9:30am-4:30pm daily | $375

Learn the principles of silkscreen in order to produce posters, printed clothing, bags and beautiful art. You will learn how to screenprint on different surfaces as well as how to make your own screenprinting set-up at home.
